1.My task in the group

After sharing the tasks I was entrusted with the task of back-end developer in our project which consists of creating a mobile application with android studios and java

2.Allocated tasks in the group, tasks completed and outstanding tasks.

For now the allocation of tasks in the group were successful at moment we have decided to devise our team in three small different group which includes two designers, two front-end developers and two back-end developers. and for the moment we have no outstanding tasks, I think in fact our team includes all the members we need for the accomplishment of our project and to be honest I think we will need more time to accomplish this project also a big motivation to make a successful project.

3.Suggest possible improvements for the group and you as an individual

-all the members of the team must be focused on the project and have a team spirit in order to collaborate well and know how to help others who have difficult

-and as an individual team member I need to work hard on this project, read books, articles and learn the new aspect that can allow me to contribute on the project..
